

CROSS CREEK CENTER and CROSS CREEK MANOR

Cross Creek Programs
"Not Just Programs, But a Solution"

Cross Creek Center for Boys and Cross Creek Manor for Girls are located in scenic Southern Utah. Cross Creek Programs are surrounded by several National Parks and Lakes. Cross Creek provides a balanced program that includes a structured daily schedule, character building, educational seminars, health and physical fitness programs, emotional growth and personal development courses, recreation, individualized academic instruction, group, individual and family therapy. Also provided are many opportunities for community service and competitive sports. At no time are the boys and girls together except for well supervised seminars or special activities.

Cross Creek provides a structured and supervised environment where high standards exist. Each student follows a regimented daily schedule and a firm set of rules. Students learn discipline while developing proper motivation, direction in their lives and self-esteem.

Therapy is an important component of Cross Creek Center for Boys and Cross Creek Manor for Girls. Students receive one individual session with a therapist per week. Students meet daily as a group with their therapist to help incorporate emotional growth, while more fully addressing the issues unresolved from the past. Also, the therapist will have regular communication with the parents. As the student progresses, the therapy sessions will include the parent and child. via: telephone, and later at the program. Parent/Child Workshops are conducted at various times throughout the year.

Available at the parent's request is a full psychological evaluation which includes assessments of intelligence, academic achievement, personality and behavioral profiles. These assessments are extremely useful for parents, therapists, and school advisors. They help give a good understanding of the current challenges and difficulties that your child faces.

Both Cross Creek Center & Cross Creek Manor provides Seminars and Workshops, daily character building courses, parent support services and academic curriculum.

We are happy to recommend Cross Creek Manor to parents. We are so thankful that we found this Program when we did. Our daughter was running away, skipping school, and was just “out-of-control”. There is no doubt in our minds that the Program saved her life and assisted her in areas where other programs had failed. She was encouraged to get to the root of her problems, deal with them effectively, and start loving herself again. We had tried other programs, but they merely dealt with the symptoms. Cross Creek Manor dealt with the issues that were driving those symptoms. The processes allowed her to build her self-esteem and self-confidence.

Today, our daughter is a powerful, happy, healthy young woman who is a joy and a delight to be with. She works two jobs, has graduated from high school and looks forward to her future. When we enrolled her, our hope was that she would be able to become a successful adult. Honestly, we weren't very positive at the time, due to past failures in other programs. Yet, the results exceeded our greatest hopes and dreams! We got our beautiful daughter back. We are very proud, honored and privileged to recommend Cross Creek Manor. Christy and Danny

Sending our son to Cross Creek Center was the best decision we have made concerning him. We had spent years going from therapist to psychiatrist to psychologist with little results. We were at our wits end not knowing what to do to help him. Cross Creek Center is the only facility in our search that is able to help our son deal with his adoption issues and the behaviors linked with these issues. The seminars, local support group and the internet bulletin board are all available to help us through these difficult times and help us heal as a family. We found no other program available that offers what Cross Creek has for our son. Gloria

Before the age of 12, I was a good kid. Then my life went rapidly downhill. I stopped caring about what the important people in my life thought. My parents placed me in local treatment centers five times, each time returning home and going back to the same self destruction. Things spun out of control and my parents looked for other answers.

Sending me away to Cross Creek Manor but it was the greatest gift they could have ever given me. I have learned to love myself and have changed my entire life. I want parents to know about this Program because IT WORKS! In the other programs I was put on meds and they expected that to make me better. In contrast, at this Program I dealt with the core of what was going on. Cross Creek Manor was such a blessing to my family. Today, nearly three years since I graduated the Program I have returned to work here. I have made it a purpose in my life to spread the peace, love, joy and forgiveness of my life to other struggling teens and families. Liz

Our daughter spent two years spiraling downward in the midst of numerous bad choices, running away and general defiance. Now she is a completely different person than the one that was admitted to Cross Creek Manor. This new young lady is full of love, excitement for the future, compassion for others, and has a tremendous sense of responsibility. We are constantly amazed at the transformation she has undergone. In her own words, the Program saved her life, and has given her the tools she needs to excel.

I am one hundred percent committed to Cross Creek Manor, and recommend it for any family who has a teenager at risk. It seems a drastic decision at the onset, but it is the best investment we have ever made. We saved our daughter, and nothing is worth more than that! Leann

Cross Creek Programs provide some key educational components. This includes a series of highly effective character building seminars and workshops that teach: Accountability, honesty, integrity, trust, proper choices, responsibility, and self-esteem. Parent Support Meetings and Seminars that are especially designed for parents are also provided. The culmination of the Seminars is when parents and students are invited to attend Parent/Child Workshops. These Workshops are critical to improve communications, rebuild relationships and create family unity. Cross Creek Programs have a progressive academic curriculum which is individualized and competency based. Most of the courses are completed on computers using state of the art curriculum that includes interactive features, graphs, illustrations, video clips and other multimedia teaching. Cross Creek Programs are utilizing the academic technology of the future, today!
