

Midwest Academy

Midwest Academy is a Specialty Boarding School located on a secluded 60 acres in the Tri-State Area of Illinois, Iowa, and Missouri. Midwest Academy is a beautiful two-story, self contained facility that consists of dormitories, classrooms, cafeterias, and recreation space. In addition to outstanding academics, Midwest Academy also teaches students accountability, values, integrity, respect, honor and responsibility.

The Academy offers a structured environment where students can develop proper motivation and self direction which allows them to progress both academically and personally. Daily

Character Building and Personal Development Courses utilize many of the best available resources such as: professional audio and video tapes, selective reading material, and progress review sessions. These Courses are very effective in helping students gain new insight, motivation and direction on a day to day basis.

The Academy, located just north of Keokuk, Iowa, provides a great location. It is only a few-hour drive from many major cities in the Central United States.

Rich with history, culture and natural beauty, Keokuk boasts exceptional infrastructure including healthcare facilities, colleges, quiet neighborhoods, and recreational opportunities. Keokuk owes its existence and its future to its most dominant force, the Mississippi River. Today nearly 11,000 call this beautiful city home.

Many visitors remark on the beauty and "greenness" of Keokuk, with its huge trees lining most residential areas and its public parks that offer recreational facilities. Lee County wildlife areas and parks offer many trails, historical sites, horse trails, and camping. The Mississippi River provides many opportunities to observe ducks and geese as well as deer, squirrel, wild turkey, pheasant, and quail in the surrounding rural areas.

Keokuk, Iowa, named in honor of the Sauk/Fox chief, is the place where today and history meet, where opportunities abound, and where the small town atmosphere and great people make it an enjoyable place to call home or visit. It is considered "America's Heartland," where values and the importance of family are paramount.

Midwest Academy's location, setting, and environment provides an excellent opportunity for students to develop character, excel academically, and learn to maximize their potential.

Our son, Andrew arrived at Midwest Academy on the 29th of July. I would like to share our experience. The staff have been exceptionally caring and giving. Each of the concerns I have had were dealt with promptly, and from a loving standpoint.

One of the biggest reasons we had for having our son transferred to Midwest was the benefit of the new Computer learning program. Academics is not our son's strong point. However, with the different styles this program offers, the children have the widest window of opportunity possible to learn. That added to the knowledge of the academic staff has allowed our son to again be successful academically.

The commitment of the directors and staff are additionally shown by the numerous pictures that are taken of the students as they participate in activities. These are posted on the schools web site. It is encouraging to a parent, while their child is away, to be able to view the activities they participate in, and even get a glimpse of our child in action.

These are just a couple of things that make Midwest Academy a beacon of light, during a difficult time for many families. We are one of the fortunate ones to have the opportunity to learn and grow with the Academy.

From my heart,

Nancy

My son, Kyle, is a student at Midwest Academy in Iowa. The blessings are unbelievable, the staff at Midwest are wonderful. All family, are involved in the community, and giving our son the ability to really shine in his greatness. Kyle told us of his plans after graduation, to go back and work at the facility! He wants to work for the next two months with the staff and then come home to start college in our area. I think that says it all, he wants to continue helping and being a part of the Midwest family. Thank you staff at Midwest Academy, you've brought our son back to life!

Midwest Academy provides some key educational components. This includes a series of highly effective character building seminars and workshops that teach: Accountability, honesty, integrity, trust, proper choices, responsibility, and self-esteem. Parent Support Meetings and Seminars that are especially designed for parents are also provided. The culmination of the Seminars is when parents and students are invited to attend Parent/Child Workshops. These Workshops are critical to improve communications, rebuild relationships and create family unity. Midwest Academy has a progressive academic curriculum which is individualized and competency based. Most of the courses are completed on computers using state of the art curriculum that includes interactive features, graphs, illustrations, video clips and other multimedia teaching. Midwest Academy is utilizing the academic technology of the future, today!
